THOUGHT FOR THE MONTH

"Sometimes being a friend means mastering the art of timing. There is a time for silence. A time to let go and allow people to hurl themselves into their own destiny. And a time to prepare to pick up the pieces when it's all over." Octavia Butler

Shawn Annett, Account Manager for Groeneveld Lubrication Solutions was on hand to present the newest advancements that Groeneveld has been working on. Shawn took the time to explain how important it is to have constant lubrication at critical grease points and how their system accomplishes the task. By having a Groeneveld automatic greasing system you get lower repair cost, extended component life and a safer vehicle that will save you money on your investment. Shawn talked about how Groeneveld has 47 years of experience in all equipment greasing systems and that their technicians are trained for over six months before then are approved installation technicians. He then went on to explain some of the different greasing systems that are available to fulfill any customers requirements on any piece of equipment. They even have their own engineers for special projects. In closing Shawn wanted us to know about some real world results that Toromont Caterpillar has found on their equipment. Toromont has found a 30% reduction in repair cost and with that kind savings you will want to have Shawn give you a quote today. Shawn Annett-s.annett@groeneveld-group.com
